MID-POINT CHECK-IN · AROUND DAY 45

Halfway through, take five minutes and answer these honestly:

1. What's actually working? Do more of it.
2. What's not? Shrink it until it's easy, or drop it.
3. What's the one thing you'll fix for the second half?

RELATIONSHIPS

Deepen the friendships I have

Invest more intentionally in a few key relationships.

THE CHALLENGE

My friendships feel shallow

WHY IT MATTERS

A handful of deep friendships beats a wide shallow network.

HOW THE PLAN UNFOLDS

- Week 1 Do your first actions and start your keystone habits. The only goal this week is to begin.
- Weeks 2–4 Make the routine automatic and repeatable, working toward: Identified the few friendships worth investing in.
- Month 2–3 Turn the routine into a result you can point to, working toward: Hold a regular rhythm with my core people.

KEYSTONE HABITS

Go deeper

When catching up with a close friend, I will ask one question beyond the surface.

Initiate

Every other week, I will be the one to suggest plans.

YOUR FIRST ACTIONS

- Pick your core few
Choose the handful of relationships worth real investment.
- Schedule regular time
Set a recurring call or meetup with your core people.

Ask a real question

Move past logistics to how they're genuinely doing.

TRACK IT · FIRST TWO WEEKS

Check a box each day you do the habit. Copy it for the weeks after.

IF-THEN PLAN

When we stay on surface topics, then I ask one real question to go deeper.

When I feel like the only one trying, then I name it kindly rather than quietly withdrawing.

When there's no time for real talk, then I suggest a walk or call instead of a quick text.

Be truly present at home

Protect daily undistracted time with the people who matter most.

THE CHALLENGE

I'm not present with my family

WHY IT MATTERS

Presence, not hours, is what your family actually remembers.

KEYSTONE HABITS

Phone-free dinner

When we sit down to eat, I will leave my phone in another room.

Arrival ritual

When I walk in the door, I will greet each person before anything else.

YOUR FIRST ACTIONS

Set a hard work stop
Pick a time work ends and protect the evening for family.

Create a phone basket
A spot where phones go during family time so attention is undivided.

Plan one weekly ritual

A simple recurring thing — game night, a walk — everyone counts on.

Check a box each day you do the habit. Copy it for the weeks after.

IF-THEN PLAN

When I reach for my phone at home, then I put it in the basket until the kids are in bed.

When work pulls at me after hours, then I close the laptop and put it out of sight until morning.

When I'm drained in the evening, then I give 20 focused minutes instead of a distracted whole evening.
